An Important Announcement and Introduction.

We are very pleased to announce in this issue of "The News" that we are this week opening a Plumbing and Steamfitting department under the foremanship of Mr. Arthur Desmarchais, late of Montreal, Que., and of Picton, Ont.

The need of a Plumbing and Steamfitting shop of the highest order has long appealed to us, as being characteristic of the situation in this regard in Red Deer, and only after careful consideration did we conclude to supply that need. Consequently we have secured an excellent workshop which is now being fitted up with tools and machinery suitable for this class of work.

In introducing to the Red Deer public Mr. Arthur Desmarchais, we do so with every degree of confidence, and with a feeling of pride that we have the BEST MAN as a plumber and steamfitter that money could procure. We know something of Mr. Desmarchais' ability personally; he comes bringing credentials of the highest order, and when leaving his old employer, with whom he was engaged for five years, he was almost begged to remain, so anxious was he of retaining his services.

It matters not what our customers want, whether it be a common joint wiped, a water service installed, a bathroom fitted up, or a business block heated with steam or hot water—our department can serve you.

We know that our friends will thank us for putting this work on such a high basis under Mr. Desmarchais' management. Give him your confidence.

Estimates furnished on all classes of Plumbing and heating.

Western General Electric Co., Ltd. MOTOR SERVICE.

The time is now come when this Company is prepared to furnish power for all purposes, great and small, by means of Electric Motors. These Motors are so low in cost, occupy so little space; are so easily controlled, and are so exceedingly economical in operation that their use will be practically universal as soon as people understand the matter. There is scarcely a home, or a place of business, in which electric power cannot be used to lighten and cheapen labor. Inquiries solicited.

and proved that they would grow here and that this was a good country to live in. He issued pamphlets and wrote letters and was never happy unless he was doing something to advance the interest of our great province. He was for many years president of the old Agricultural Association of Red Deer. He cherished many a drooping heart with his whole soul and unbounded confidence in the future possibilities of Alberta. A man among men, loyal to the core, ever ready to help in anything that would tend to advance the interests of this town and district, we doubt if there is a man in Alberta or in Canada to-day who has done more for the district in which he resides than Dr. Gaetz, and now in his declining years, he has the pleasure of seeing the same principles and loyalty to our town carried on by his family who have erected several of our finest blocks and numerous residences, are interested in our leading industries, and hold the highest positions of trust in the gift of our people.

Dr. Gaetz has ever been a liberal giver and only recently donated largely to the new church. His latest gift is $1000 to the Memorial Hospital. As President of the Hospital Board, he has devoted a great deal of his time towards advancing the interests of this splendid institution, and we are pleased to learn that the Board has asked him to retain the office of President for at least the present, and appoint some one to act in his absence, although he wished to retire.

We, as one of many old timers, who have known Dr. Gaetz intimately for years and his good qualities of heart and hand, extend to him sympathy in his threatened illness and hope he will return to his old home and town he has loved so long, with renewed health and vigor.

We understand the doctor will be accompanied to the Coast by his daughter, Mrs. Hugh Clark.

The meeting of shareholders then resumed when Mr. Greene explained that at some twenty gentlemen present had guaranteed to make good any loss, and a resolution was passed to the effect that the exhibition association would undertake the race meet provided the citizens would guarantee any deficit. The meeting then adjourned.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR IS DUE.

The News regrets very much to hear that Rev. Dr. Gaetz has been advised by his physician to seek a prolonged rest and change of climate for his health, which is not of the best at the present time. He will, therefore, leave shortly for the Coast for a prolonged stay, with the hope of permanent recovery.

A pioneer of the pioneers, a man who has always stood for the right, who has moral stamina to stand by his principles, he has not only the respect but sympathy of the citizens of Red Deer in his threatened illness.

Moving to northern Alberta when this district was yet a wilderness, with his large family, he brought in overland at great cost a saw mill outfit with which he supplied the early settlers with lumber to build their houses. He worked with his hands as hard as any of the men. "He was here during the rebellion and was forced to flee with his family to Calgary during those perilous times. He has never missed an opportunity of advertising Alberta abroad, and was largely instrumental in getting capitalists interested in building the railroad which now passes through our town. He planted grains and vegetables

National Steel Ranges

Have been thoroughly tested with Test and Time. They are not a new creation—110 of these Ranges are in use in this district. All customers agree that they are perfect bakers, with small amount of fuel. Moreover, it is surprising the small amount of repairs that these Ranges require, proving that nothing but the best grades of steel are used in their construction.

Have you seen the "Canada." Prices are no higher than many inferior ranges.

THE EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION AND THE RACE MEET.

The meeting of shareholders of the Red Deer Exhibition Association called in the Fire Hall Friday last, to discuss the question of holding the race meeting here June 13th and 14th under the auspices of the association, was largely attended. The chair was occupied by President Henry Jamieson, while A. W. G. Allen acted as secretary. A large number of the shareholders contended they had signed for stock on the understanding that the race meet would be held under the auspices of the Association, while others contended as strongly that they had signed with the understanding that there should be no horse racing in connection with the exhibition.

Dr. Gaetz did not oppose the idea so much because it was horse racing because he could stay away if he didn't like it but because it was illegal. The preamble of the stock lists only called for exhibition purposes and he contended we were overstepping our statutory privileges in introducing horse racing.

T. F. Ellis contended that he together with the hotel men of the town had subscribed a thousand dollars towards the association with the understanding that there would be horse racing under the auspices of the association and they certainly would decline to pay if this privilege was denied to them. Mayor H.H. Gaetz said if it was illegal then we must try to arrange matters so that we could get around the difficulty in some way and strive to maintain harmony in our exhibition association.

Eloise was having thoughts. That they were not pleasant thoughts was proved by the hurry with which she donned her tan slacks and close brown walking hat and slipped out of the door. She hurried down brilliantly lit Broadway, hoping that the new experience of being alone, unchaperoned, unexpected, amid the rush of life on all sides, might divert her mind. She was halted at last by a man with a megaphone. He was shouting: "All aboard for Chinatown! Right this way. Tickets two dollars. All aboard for Chinatown!"

She looked up at the huge, ugly "rubberneck wagon," now fairly transformed into a bower of beauty of red, white and blue electric lights and Chinese lanterns bobbing in the chill breeze. It seemed to offer succor from the instant, uncomfortable thoughts at the back of her brain. The old wagon in its brave array of lights and its happy jumble of lanterns and its happy irresponsibility, and on the spur of the moment she whipped out her purse and stepped into the wagon. She was almost blindly down the stairs and into the street, trusting to her instinct for locality to guide her to the nearest subway station. The orchestra felt back in wild excitement at sight of her feeling figure, and a few fat old fellows said unintelligible things to her which caused a roar of laughter. Her cheeks were burning, her breath was coming in gasps, as she came into the little square marking the one time wickedest place in New York. It was once she felt that she was being followed. Quick, light footfalls were coming behind her, keeping pace with hers, and terror, clutching her heart. A few drunken men sprawled on the park benches. To return was impossible. She could not see the "rubberneck" party. There was nothing to do but keep on as best she could.

She emerged from the park ready to drop with exhaustion and was obliged to slow down to get her breath. To her relief she found the steps had stopped, and no one was in sight. She went on and on through the better streets of the wholesale district and at last saw the two bright lights in the surface cars ahead. She reined for her purse. It was gone!

She stopped stock still on a corner, frozen with horror. Alas! at night on a deserted street, with no money and home miles away! The tils of her guard, pampered life showed upmost in this dilemma. The light-colored girl would have known what to do. She stood there dazed, helpless. Till the sound of rapidly approaching footsteps started her into action. She sprang forward.

"Eloise!" A man's voice echoed her name commandingly among the skyscrapers. She collapsed all in a heap on the curbstone.

"You—lovely girl," he said, looking down at her limp person straggling for breath.

"Oh, George," she panted, "I didn't know it was you!"

He sat down on the curb beside her. "I thought you did," he said. "And there wasn't any real danger?" she asked, wide eyed. "Oh, what a simpleton!"

"None at all except from the ogre me," he laughed shortly. "Oh, George, you are simply fine!" "You didn't think so last week this time?" he said relentlessly. "You didn't think I was a fool?" "A girl likes to be convinced."

"Oh, you—you will say it—Captain girl!" he said, with adoring eyes.

The Word "Explosive." "Explosive" was first used in its modern sense in the first quarter of the nineteenth century. "Explosive" in the sense of "blow up" or "go off" is scarcely a century older. Before that people talked of a ball being "exploded" from a gun, the bomb "exploding" or "blowing up" or "exploding" lava, but that was very much nearer the word's original sense of driving away with force. "Explosive," in fact, is a literally to clap away or to go off. A technical word for driving an actor off the stage by contemptuous handclapping. That is the real meaning of an "exploded idea."

Her Glance Backward. In a Broadway car long past midnight a robust, motherly woman sat with a well worn bonnet of about fifteen years. The boy had fallen asleep, and his head rested heavily against her shoulder. "Ladies and gentlemen," he said, "wait a few minutes, and I will explain this interesting place. There are some people present who did not see you to hear this for nothing. I know your kind. You have been following us around just to get this information free. Not a night pass but I have trouble of this kind, and it's got to stop."

"Do you mean me?" she demanded. "I guess we have a good right to be here as any one. And we'll stay here till we are ready to go."

The conductor turned to Eloise for application. "The members of this party have each paid $2 for this valuable information, and it is not fair to them to allow you to hear this for nothing. I know your kind. You have been following us around just to get this information free. Not a night pass but I have trouble of this kind, and it's got to stop."

"Eloise!"

She jumped at the sound of her name and a man's step on the balcony pressed back against the wall of the house, starting with wild eyes at the man before her.

"What are you doing here?" he demanded. "Why, you have never been out like this! What does it mean?" She gathered her forces suddenly for retaliation.

"What if I haven't?" she said, somewhat breathlessly. "I am not enough to do as I choose—and it is in the least your affair what I do!"

She pushed past him into the incense laden interior to have the conductor present her with a package of Joss sticks and a slip of paper covered with Chinese characters.

"A fortune," he said gallantly. "Ask your Chinese laundryman to read it for you."

"I haven't a Chinese laundryman," she exclaimed passionately, "and I never will have one!"

KILLED IN THE SPORTING FIELD.

Beautiful Daughter of English Earl, Shot by Her Husband.

Lady Dorothy Outhbert, daughter of the fifth Earl of Stafford, and one of the most popular and beautiful women in society, has been killed under terrible tragic circumstances. She was the victim of the accidental discharge of a gun carried by her husband.

Barely four years have passed since Lady Dorothy's marriage to Captain James Harold Outhbert.

Lady Dorothy Outhbert was only 26 years of age. Captain Outhbert, although only two years older than his wife, has had a distinguished military career. He served with the Scots Guards through the South African war, and gained his D.S.O. He was a crack shot, and in 1903 was champion revolver shot in the army.

The scene of the tragedy was the son's Wood, near Beaumont Castle, the lovely home of the young couple in Northamptonshire.

Captain Outhbert was out with a small party for pheasant shooting. Lady Dorothy traveled to the scene of the shoot in her motor-car for the purpose of joining the party at luncheon. She was walking by her husband's side. Suddenly a keeper, who was walking in front, heard the report of a gunshot.

Turning round he was horrified to see Lady Outhbert lying on the snow-covered ground and her husband prostrate beside her. Captain Outhbert was in a dead faint, and did not know for some hours afterwards what had happened. Suddenly a keeper, who was walking in front, heard the report of a gunshot.

THINGS MODISTIC.

Stiff Linen Collars With Dressed Shirt Waists—Belows Boots.

It is now the fashion to wear with any style of shirt waist a stiff turned-down collar of hand embroidered linen, even if the waist fastens down back, as waists almost invariably do. The collar is either buttoned to the collar band back and front, then held firmly together by a jeweled bar pin above the soft silk tie.

GIRL'S PETER PAN COLLAR—5572.

With a severe tailor made jacket the low front is most attractive, as it fits in the flat openings.

Young women who tramp abroad in all kinds of weather are wearing what are called belows boots. The tongues of the belows boots are stitched to the tops all the way up, and the shoes are thoroughly impervious to water.

Among the prettiest of the new things seen at the jewelers are the chainlike purses made of gold or silver and ornamented with the owner's monogram set in her birthstones for luck.

Glove purses of silver shaped like a bow and long and thin enough to fit in the palm of one's hand are very smart. Although so small, they can stand up as the larger purses.

One of the polka dots of linen set on a plain white linen handkerchief and hemstitched all round are among the new things seen at the jewelers.

The illustration shows a new Peter Pan suit for a small girl to be made up in summer materials. The only trimming is a strip of embroidery down the front of the blouse and the neat turned back cuffs.

Short Sleeves For Blouse and Shirt Waists on the Wane.

The smart summer blouses have either long or three-quarter sleeves, but of course the short sleeve will appear on a number of the handsomest models. Dotted swiss plaids in a wide pattern are one of the exclusive materials for short waists. It is thirty inches wide and sells for 75 cents up to several dollars a yard.

either side with quilted lace or muslin is to be bought all ready made, and a very pretty design can be purchased for 60 cents a yard. Cuffs and often cuffs and collar are made of this ready made trimming.

Very expensive and proportionately exclusive are the lingerie blouses and short waists with narrow more embroidered stiff linen collars. With a few bits of lace and hand worked lace or null these neck pieces can be made for a song.

Among the new embroideries a caranation design is effective. Many black costumes in the handsomer materials are heavily trimmed and have just a glimpse of color introduced into them somewhere. A touch of blue is pretty.

One of the main points to be remembered about art garments, whether they be the wrap or short talar coat, is that the short sleeve is on the wane. The three-quarter and full sleeves are growing more conspicuous daily, being finished with cuffs of their own or of a contrasting material.

The frocks seen in the cut are both summer models for gingham or chambray. The larger girl wears blue and white muslin edged with beading while the younger girl's dress is of Scotch gingham, with yoke of all over embroidery and bands of plain linen.

The Forces at Canaan. At the battle of Canaan there were, of the Romans, including allies, 80,000 foot and 5,000 horse; of the Carthaginians 40,000 foot and 10,000 horse. These 70,000 were slain in 312 and 10,000 taken prisoners—more than half slain.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

The Wasp Waist Again Modish—Ponges in Smart Effects.

Sprinklelike waists are again to figure in fashions. With the introduction of round skirts, no one will be surprised to learn this fact, for the two invariably go together. There need be no doubt of the wisdom of just a little precaution in the fastening of the undergarments to prevent bulkiness in all that is necessary, though a little physical effort will keep down any thickening of the waist muscles.

The rough ponges have come back with re-enforcements. Last year the majority of them were plain, but this season they are plaided, blocked, striped and crossbarred.

The four-piece ponges are unlike those we are accustomed to wear. Few of the new designs are in floral effects. Instead the backgrounds are of wide or narrow stripes with geometrical or scroll patterns.

Leaf designs in the new embroideries are now in vogue. The silk ponges, which are really gorgeous, and the men's ponges of silk and chiffon.

The theater blouse of the moment consists of a wire framed wreath of flowers and silver tissue with sweeping feathers or an egret in front or at one side. The coil of hair forms the only crown of this hat in name only.

Flowered batiste makes the small girl's gown seen in the cut. The jumper waist is worn over a chemise of tuck muslin.

HINTS FOR SPRING.

New Tailored Skirts—Checks and Men's Suits Smart.

The new skirts in spring tailors' modes are short, reaching barely to the instep in many cases, and have side breadths cut with a broad circular flare. The apron front goes is held flat with a shaped belt made solid with one or three side ones. The effect of this front is that of a V up to the waist, with a sharp point lacking.

white crossed by delicate lines of color are smart materials. On the less dressy frocks which the men's suits turn out there is seldom any trimming other than that of stitching, but the more elegant checked stuffs are trimmed slightly on the coats with taffeta or a contrasting material.

The frocks seen in the cut are both summer models for gingham or chambray. The larger girl wears blue and white muslin edged with beading while the younger girl's dress is of Scotch gingham, with yoke of all over embroidery and bands of plain linen.

A MITTEN HOLDER.

Protects the Hand From Steam in Lifting Pots From the Range.

When a young bride I purchased some very pretty blue and white knitted furnishings. On using them I discovered that they had holes, but no handles, and it was almost impossible to pour anything from them without scalding my hand in the rising steam. So I made what I call the "mitten holder." Take a piece of cotton flannel sixteen inches long and eight inches wide, fold in halves lengthwise and pad well with flannel. Before closing the side seam cut a slit the width of a hand two inches up from and parallel to the bottom seam on the side not padded (A B). Bind with tape. Then stitch the edges, not forgetting a brass ring lugger (C). When in use this will be found ample protection to the back of the hand as well as palm. It is easily and thoroughly washed and is a great convenience. The same scheme might be used with two sheets of asbestos paper quilted into the cloth.

The coverings of a house can be built in which shirt waists may be kept and also serve as a seat. Mirrors may be set into the wall, framed to match the woodwork. If the walls are in good condition it is better to have them painted a delicate tint, though it gives a room a good appearance. Nothing, however, is as satisfactory or economical if the walls are painted, the hangings and furniture coverings should be figured.

If covered or figured paper and hangings are of the same design. The doors, corners should be of hard wood or be painted. It is possible then by removing the rugs and wiping up floor polish with a brush occasionally to keep the room free from dust.

The rag rugs now so popular are desirable for bedrooms, for they can be washed and without much trouble—New York Post.

Believes Children Have Taste. One Bostonian has some theories of child culture dreamed of by early New England says it is a great mistake to dress children in uniform like the soldiers of the army. It is better to let them wear what they wish to wear and to exercise their own taste in dress. The Boston woman adds: "The thoughtful child of today appreciates what is good form in dress and other things, and when a little girl gets to be half a dozen numbers or so her preferences should be taken into consideration. It is a mistake for reproving elders to frown upon any little fancy which does not coincide with their own ideas."

Further remarks that, given an idea many of these geniuses of the nursery go ahead and improve upon it with a vengeance. It would put many dress-makers to the blush.

The Proof. Lawson—is he rich? Dawson—Fabsulously. Why, he stayed three days once at a Florida hotel.

FOR THE HALL.

A Flower Stand and How It Easily Can Be Constructed.

A flower pedestal suitable for a hall or spacious landing on a stairway is illustrated. It should be about four and a half feet high and the four uprights made from good pine one inch and a half square. The base must be made as heavy and solid as possible, and can best be built up with layers of boards the edges neatly beveled to form a molding. It should be eighteen inches square, and the four uprights must be firmly secured through from underneath and further strengthened by four pieces of inch material six inches wide, placed on the inside of the uprights, shelves, top and brackets are also of

THE PACKING INDUSTRY.

A Canadian branch of Swift & Co., the big Chicago Packing Company, is to be established at Edmonton. The building will be seven stories high, of brick, will be located in the eastern portion of the city, and will be completed by September.

The plant will have a large killing capacity and at first will be able to dispose of at least 500 hogs, cattle, sheep, and will be in a position to handle 5,000 each day as soon as the country can produce that quantity.

The plant will also handle all the eggs, poultry and butter, that the farmers can produce and will pay cash on delivery for all purchases.

This will probably do away with the hope some settlers had of seeing pork packing industries established in Alberta similar to those in Denmark under government supervision and controlled by the farmers themselves. When the great trusts of the United States establish branches in this country the influence behind them is too great to fight, especially by the farming community, who are the most interested.

The creamery system of Alberta bids fair to be one of the best in the world, simply because the government has stood at the back of the organization and gives a helping hand whenever possible. The consequence is that the settlers have confidence in the business, and it is growing leaps and bounds as it becomes better known.

The same may be said of the packing industry. Government ownership has been the slogan for some time, and government ownership of this great industry would probably mean more to the farmers and ranchers of Alberta than any one thing that could be done for them.

There is one sure thing the establishing of the Swift people at Edmonton will create a market for the products of the settlers which will be a great benefit to the province at large as well as every individual stockgrower within her borders.

AN EMIGRATION HALL.

One of the crying needs of Red Deer is an emigration hall where new comers can find lodging until settled. At the present time many who intended remaining here for a short time, on learning that there was no accommodation for emigrants, passed on to Edmonton where they knew there would be a spot where they could rest the sole of their foot. These remarks are prompted after learning that people have dropped off here and wandered aimlessly around until becoming tired and disgusted at no one taking any interest in them, had taken the first train from town. Another case was where the chief of police had given strangers lodging at the barracks. Spare buildings are so rare in town we will admit, but we have no doubt arrangements could be made by the city of Red Deer to take care of the newcomers for a part of the large hall formerly used by the Massey Harris Co. which could be fitted up and made a comfortable place where at least the weary traveler could find shelter for a time.

FRANK OLIVER ON BLAIR-MORE CASE.

Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the Interior, is spending a few days in Edmonton prior to his trip to the coast cities. Interviewed in Calgary regarding the Blairmore townsite case, Mr. Oliver stated that he would not go to Blairmore.

"It will not be necessary for either me or my deputy to go," he said, "we were served with notices to come and bring the departmental papers, but in consulting with the prosecuting attorney at Ottawa I found they wanted the papers particularly. Neither my deputy nor myself had anything to do with that case, so our presence is not necessary. The papers are now on their way from the east."

Concluding the interview, Mr. Oliver said: "Last session was a tariff session and it was expected that a greater amount of time would be devoted to the discussion of the tariff than it actually took and in this expectation the other business had not been fully prepared."

Speaking of the new labor disputes bill, the minister said, "that it offers disputations, who are really anxious to settle, an opportunity to do so on the time honored basis of 'peace with honor.'"

ARE YOU A BROMIDE?

A friend from the United States declares that a portion of the population over there are agitated by the question, "Are you a Bromide?" A bromide it would seem is a person of soothing or soporific effect. The kind of person who never, by any chance, says or does the unexpected. If you cannot yearn self to the antiquely conventional you are a bromide. The opposite is a sulphide. Your sulphide dazles and perhaps, dazes you with the unexpected. Perhaps there are more sulphides across the border than with us. Our climate does not seem healthy for them.

If you say such thing as, "I don't think the suffrage is at all womanly," or "How weary trying the weather is," or "The horse show is very poor this year," you will be a bromide. Probably you have no very great objection. The great objection of the population of the republic think otherwise to a man and a woman it longs to be a sulphide. This must lead to rather nervous intercourse. To be continually on the alert to feel suspicious must be harassing. Anyone with a decently human desire for being lazy would find life under such conditions a struggle and a woe. It is hard for most of us to be brilliant.—Toronto World.

THE INSURANCE COMMISSION.

Between Senator Cox and Hon. Geo. E. Foster they have managed to thoroughly discount the Dominion Insurance Commission which was set up in the different cities, with the pretended object of enquiring into insurance investments. Senator Cox has demonstrated the incapacity of the alleged inquiry, while Mr. Foster has cut a most damaging discount on its motives.

The commission has already cost more than $100,000. That it was organized to provide party jobs for the commissioners and lawyers, one could easily believe. One Grit lawyer was hired at the rate of $30,000 a year and all traveling expenses. Another at $15,000 a year and expenses. A whole brigade of lesser Grits were put in bolinder.

The commission did not go far until it was found that Senator Cox and other leading lights of finance were to be hurt, so the thing was turned into an inquiry for the purpose of fishing through the private affairs of leading Tories with a view to discrediting them in the eyes of the public. But the scheme failed in this as in every other respect, and now the whole thing has been knocked into a cocked hat by exposures in parliamentary debate.

A case has just come to light in New York wherein a woman was married half the day to one man, and the rest of the day to another, and lived that way for a while without being found out.

Julius Kobas was treasurer of a down town business firm and always spent the evenings with his wife. She lived in another part of the city as Mrs. Steiner, her husband being engaged all night at work and would come home late in the morning. After her husband who worked in the day time would go to work, she had time to go to her other home and meet the man as he came from work in the morning. The story seems pretty fishy as Sunday would be an awkward day for the lady to account for, but the name of Justice Dowling is given as granting a divorce to the man Kobas.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

MRS. EMMA A. SUMMERS.

The California "Oil Queen" and Her

Business Ability.

One of the most interesting personalities in California is Mrs. Emma A.

Summers of Los Angeles, the "Oil

Queen." This name has been bestowed upon her primarily because of her vast operations in one of the greatest natural resources in the state, but it most aptly describes one who by virtue of most superior mental powers rules

There is a brute force in her away, but nevertheless it has been most effective, and could the story be told, this modest, refined and truly feminine woman has gained victories over combinations of masculine training and abilities that have been backed by capital and influence so powerful that from the ranks of industry have gone down under the impact.

But the story of today is success. It has come through purpose and genius.

Inheriting from her father, a business intelligence in financial matters, but reared in a southern home, where all the womanly qualities were accentuated, she is a rare combination of the man and the business person—one seldom seen, but when found always at the heights of attainment. It was with money earned at the oil business that she has planned and executed her plans and broad shoulders give this shirt waist an air of newness.

The neck is finished with a band, and an embroidered linen collar of the kind is worn.

A practical and pretty dress for spring is of smoke gray velvet trimmed with the same shade of tulle intricately embroidered with soutache. With the blouse and skirt goes a short jacket of tulle almost entirely covered with braiding and so cut that the sleeves and body appear to be in one and the sloping shoulder line is unbroken. The collar and chemise of this frock are of embroidered tulle of a cream tint trimmed in real valenciennes, a narrow central plait being bordered on each side by lace edged plaitings of batiste.

Stiff linen collars are embroidered with a tiny flower in black and other shades besides the omnipresent Scotch plaid. The waist that can be worn over a separate yoke is one of the latest developments of fashion. The model illustrated is well adapted for washing, and wide and short. The cuff is adjustable, so that the sleeves can be long or short at will.

A HOUSEHOLD HINT.

Dainties That Are Made With the Whites of Eggs.

There are many dishes which are rendered richer and more delicate by the omission of some or even all of the whites of eggs. The kinds of candies and milk puddings, for instance, are enormously improved by following this plan. At the same time it is very economical, something of a problem how to utilize successfully the whites thus left over. The consequence of a careful cook will not permit her to throw them away, and yet it depends upon the size of the cut.

In broiling and in roasting, which are in reality the same, the name depending upon the nature of the piece of meat, this hardening of the exterior is accomplished by exposing the meat to the direct action of the heat, which must be intense enough to sear the surface at once. When it is not, the juices seep out, leaving the meat tasteless and sacrificing its nutritive qualities. In broiling meat surface coagulation is attained by immersing the meat in boiling water and keeping up the temperature for a minute. One of the preliminary rules for broiling one which should be indelibly impressed upon

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22nd 1907.

THE PACKING INDUSTRY.

A Canadian branch of Swift & Co., the big Chicago Packing Company, is to be established at Edmonton. The building will be seven stories high, of brick, will be located in the eastern portion of the city, and will be completed by September.

The plant will have a large killing capacity and at first will be able to dispose of at least 500 hogs, cattle, sheep, and will be in a position to handle 5,000 each day as soon as the country can produce that quantity.

The plant will also handle all the eggs, poultry and butter, that the farmers can produce and will pay cash on delivery for all purchases. This will probably do away with the hope some settlers had of seeing pork packing industries established in Alberta similar to those in Denmark under government supervision and controlled by the farmers themselves. When the great trusts of the United States establish branches in this country the influence behind them is too great to fight, especially by the farming community, who are the most interested.

The creamery system of Alberta bids fair to be one of the best in the world, simply because the government has stood at the back of the organization and gives a helping hand whenever possible. The consequence is that the settlers have confidence in the business, and it is growing leaps and bounds as it becomes better known.

The same may be said of the packing industry. Government ownership has been the slogan for some time, and government ownership of this great industry would probably mean more to the farmers and ranchers of Alberta than any one thing that could be done for them.

There is one sure thing the establishing of the Swift people at Edmonton will create a market for the produce of the settlers which will be a great benefit to the province at large as well as every individual stockgrower within her borders.

AN EMIGRATION HALL.

One of the crying needs of Red Deer is an emigration hall where new immigrants could find lodging until settled. At the present time many who intended remaining here for a short time, on learning that there was no accommodation for emigrants, passed on to Edmonton where they knew there would be a spot where they could rest the sole of their foot. These remarks are prompted after learning that people have dropped off here and wandered aimlessly around until becoming tired and disgusted at no one taking any interest in them, had taken the first train from town. Another case was where the chief of police had given strangers lodging at the barracks. Spare buildings are scarce in town we will admit, but we have no doubt arrangements could be made with Finley & Harkness the real estate man for a part of the large hall formerly used by the Massey Harris Co. which could be fitted up and made a comfortable place where at least the weary traveller could find shelter for a time.

FRANK OLIVER ON BLAIR-MORE CASE.

Hon. Frank Oliver, minister of the Interior, is spending a few days in Edmonton prior to his trip to the coast cities. Interviewed in Calgary regarding the Blairmore townsite case, Mr. Oliver stated that he would not go to Blairmore.

"It will not be necessary for either me or my deputy to go," he said, "we were served with notices to come and bring the departmental papers, but on consulting with the prosecuting attorney at Ottawa I found they wanted the papers particularly. Neither my deputy nor myself had anything to do with that case, so our presence is not necessary. The papers are now on their way from the east."

Concluding the interview, Mr. Oliver said: "Last session was a tariff session and it was expected that a great amount of time would be devoted to the discussion of the tariff than it actually took and in this expectation the other business had not been fully prepared.

Speaking of the new labor disputes bill the minister said, "that it offers disputants, who are really anxious to settle, an opportunity to do so on the time honored basis of 'peace with honor'."

ARE YOU A BROMIDE?

A friend from the United States declares that a portion of the population over there are agitated by the question, "Are you a Bromide?" A bromide it would seem is a person of soothing or soporific effect. The kind of person who never, by any chance, says or does the unexpected. If you can't say yourself to the antiques of conventional you are a bromide. The opposite is a sulphide. Your sulphide dazes and perhaps, dazes you with the unexpected. Perhaps there are more sulphides abroad the border than with us. Our climate does not seem healthy for them.

If you say such thing as, "I don't think the suffrage is to the wayman," or "How very trying the weather is," or "The horse show is very poor this year," you will be a bromide. Probably you have no very great objection. The great and glorious population of the republic think otherwise to a man and a woman it long to be a sulphide. This must lead to rather nervous intercourse. To be continually on the alert to feel sulphurous must be harassing. Anyone with a decently human desire for being lively would find life under such conditions a struggle and a woe. It is hard for most of us to be brilliant.—Toronto World.

THE INSURANCE COMMISSION.

Between Senator Cox and Hon. Geo. E. Foster they have managed to thoroughly discount the Dominion Insurance Commission which was set up in the different cities with the pretence of objecting of enquiring into insurance investments. Senator Cox has demonstrated the incapacity of the alleged inquiry, while Mr. Foster has cast a most damaging discount on its motives.

The commission has already cost more than $100,000. That it was organized to provide party jobs for the commissioners and lawyers, one could easily believe. One Grit lawyer was hired at the rate of $90,000 a year and all traveling expenses. Another at $15,000 a year and expenses. A whole brigade of lesser Grits were put in behind.

The commission did not go far until it was found that Senator Cox and other leading lights of finance were to be hurt, so the thing was turned into an inquiry for the purpose of fishing through the private affairs of leading Tories with a view to discrediting them in the eyes of the public. But the scheme failed in this as in every other respect, and now the whole thing has been knocked into a cocked hat by exposures in parliamentary debate.

A case has just come to light in New York wherein a woman was married half the day to one man, and the rest of the day to another, and lived that way for a year without being found out.

Julius Kobas was treasurer of a down town business firm and always spent the evenings with his wife. She lived in another part of the city as Mrs. Steiner, her husband being engaged all night at work and would come home late in the morning. After her husband who worked in the day time would go to work, she had time to go to her other home and meet the man as he came from work in the morning. The story seems pretty fishy as Sunday would be an awkward day for the lady to account for, but the name of Justice Dowling is given as granting a divorce to the man Kobas.

THE DOCTOR GIVES HIS VIEWS.

Editor of "The News."

Sir, you were kind enough to give a paragraph in your issue of the 15th re the building of the Methodist Church in this town. I cannot help feeling that if the object of that paragraph was to promote harmony it would have been easy to find more accurate sources of information than the idle talk of the street.

We admit the contract was given to an "outside builder," but what of that, is Red Deer a close corporation? Has Red Deer shut its door against the outsider, in the face of the Dominion emigration policy, the publicity committees and Boards of Trades preaching the open door and cordially inviting the stranger from the four corners of the earth. Outsider indeed! We were all outsiders but a few years ago. We came to suit ourselves. We stay just as long as it suits us; not a day longer for the special benefit of Red Deer and when things don't suit us the transportation facilities are much better for getting out than in the old days of the cart and buckboard. I am in perfect accord with your doctrine of standing shoulder to shoulder when that aphorism is rightly understood. But I have yet to learn that it is either wise or just for the few who have been fortunate enough to get into this progressive town to turn to the gateways and shout "outsider" to any new comer seeking entrance. Builders come from Montreal to Winnipeg, from Winnipeg to Edmonton, from Edmonton to Calgary, from Brandon to Lacombe, why not from Brandon to Red Deer when that is thought all things considered to be in the best interests of those most concerned.

As to the contract being given "over the heads of competent contractors in town who could do the work" we have only to say that when block tenders were invited from every contractor in town only one tender was submitted from Red Deer, and one from the Brandon Construction company and after due consideration it was felt that a $30,000 job could be more easily swung by a strong company, and with less financial worry to the building committee than it could be by a single individual, and further that a man who has had the experience of building several churches of the pattern of the one contemplated had a preference over a builder who had never yet built a church or financed anything like so heavy an undertaking, and this I know the judgement of the committee is endorsed by some of the best contractors in town. But does the public know or want to know that after all this out cry, local contractors are doing well night all the work; and doing it to as great an extent as is possible with material manufactured in Red Deer. It is true some of the material will be purchased outside of the town for the simple reason that it cannot be purchased within. All our high grade lumber is shipped in any way, and at the present outrageous price of that commodity there will be no kick coming from us if the Brandon construction company ship direct from the mills and give us the advantage, for in such a heavy undertaking we cannot afford the extra items of middle men's profits, simply to do the shoulder to shoulder act. As soon as plumbers, suppliers, glass, building hardware are manufactured in Red Deer we may rest assured we will not purchase outside the town if we can get a fair deal in.

I hope Mr. Editor you will give us an opportunity to discuss these matters with you if you think it necessary to advert to them editorially. For while I am sure you want to be fair minded, it is almost impossible to be so, having only one side of the subject and that side naturally and necessarily influenced by personal and selfish considerations. You will admit that such a well nigh impossible undertaking is no child's play, and the building committee constitutionally appointed by the proper courts of the church for whom they are acting, while not claiming to be infallible, must exercise their best judgment and act upon it in the general interests of all concerned, without fear or favor, in no other way can any undertaking be carried through either in Church or State.

I am yours sincerely,
LEO. GAETZ
Chairman of Building Com.
Red Deer May 26th 1907.

RED DEER PRESBYTERY.

The regular quarterly meeting of Red Deer Presbytery was held in the Presbyterian Church, Red Deer, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Rev. K. C. McLeod, of Poncha, moderator, occupied the chair, with Rev. J. E. Hogg, of Wetaskiwin as Presbytery clerk. There were also present Revs. White, Lacombe, Hamilton, Alick, Robertson, Stettler; Allan, Innis-fail; Mair, Penhold; McLennan, Willowdale; Archibald, Morning-side, and Fortune, Red Deer; students McVey, Wallace, and Bannerman; and representative elder John McVicar.

Mr. H. Wallace, M. A., B. D., was licensed to preach the Gospel and his ordination was appointed for Blackfalds on the 28th May. It was decided to petition the General Assembly to allow the Presbytery to ordain John Nilsson of Burnt Lake, a licentiate of the Mission Friends, Sweden.

A conference formed part of the business of Presbytery, the moderator giving a thoughtful paper on Amos; The Man and His Times, and Mr. Hogg an able review of the Christian Conception of God. Both brought out profitable discussions. The next regular meeting will be held in August, on call of the Assembly, as the Red Deer Presbytery is to be divided.

Innisfail.

The Innisfail museum will be closed on June 1st. says the Province.

The members of the Red Deer District of the Alberta Methodist Conference were in session in the Methodist Church here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The business of the various circuits and missions was carefully considered and reports prepared for the ensuing annual conference. Rev. A. C. Farrell, of Red Deer, was chairman; Rev. G. G. Webber, financial secretary; Rev. J. W. Bruce, of Olds, journal secretary; Rev. J. R. Earle, of Springvale, statistical secretary. Rev. G. G. Webber was elected district representative to the stationing committee.

New Plumbing Enterprise.

Elsewhere in this issue the attention of our readers is directed to the new plumbing and steam-fitting department of Illsey Brothers.

We are informed that it was only after carefully considering the attention of the firm concluded to open this department, and that when this decision was reached, they would only be satisfied with having a plumbing shop of the best possible order, under expert management, by a man of wide and practical experience.

Mr. Arthur Desmarais, their new foreman, comes with the highest recommendations, and has the distinction of being continuously engaged in plumbing and steamfitting for fifteen years. We just quote a short word of appreciation respecting Mr. Desmarais recent work.

Pictou, Ont., May 11th. 1907.

To whom it may concern:— This is to certify that the pastor, Mr. Arthur Desmarais, installed hot water plant in my house, and I have had the same examined by several experts, and they pronounce it to be absolutely the best job of heating they have ever seen; consequently, I have much pleasure in recommending him in every way to anybody requiring his services.

Signed B. R. Hopburn, Pres. and Gen. Manager, Ontario & Quebec Navigation Co. The people of Red Deer should congratulate themselves upon having at their command a man of Mr. Desmarais's calibre.

ESTEEMED LADY DEAD.

The following item appeared in the Orangeville, Ont. Sun, relating to the death of Mrs. J. E. Bower, of Red Deer:

This community was cast into gloom last Saturday afternoon when one of its most respected residents passed away—Mrs. Chas. Scott, aged 50 years. Mrs. Scott's maiden name was Elizabeth Gale, and she was a native of Alton. For some time she had been in poor health and on Friday she underwent an operation, performed by Drs. Algie of Alton and Bruce of Toronto, but the immediate cause of death was peritonitis. The deceased lady was very greatly beloved by everyone and her untiring efforts to advance the progress of the church to which she belonged was shown by the many things accomplished. She took a keen interest in all that was for the good of the community and in many ways she will be missed. She was a loving wife, a tender mother and a sincere friend. She acted her part in life's drama nobly, and an industrious family show the influence she wielded in the home. Previous to the funeral, the remains were taken to the Methodist church here, where Rev. Mr. Nurse preached a very touching sermon, in which he referred to the zeal always shown by the deceased in doing everything she could to make those about her happy. Besides the husband, are left the following family, who were all at the funeral except Mrs. Bower of the west. Mrs. J. E. Bower, Red

The iron and steel bounties under the Conservative Government against which the Liberal leaders used to hurl their philippics, amounted, in 1890, to $104,105; but the estimated amount of these bounties for next year 1908, is $2,500,000. The Liberals had nothing but condemnation for the payment of $100,000 in bounties, but they have now nothing but approval for the payment of two or three millions. Moreover, the old law was that the iron bounties should be paid out of revenue, while Mr. Fielding's law is that they shall be paid out of borrowed money and become a part of the permanent debt of the Dominion, to call for interest and taxation year by year.

NOTES FOR CREAMERY PATRONS.

Another seasons work is now before us. What are we going to do about it? Make it the best on record, of course. Though the creamery business is now fairly well established, considerable local buying is required to push it and to keep it in the front where it belongs. Every patron and shareholder should work tooth and nail for its success, bearing in mind that in so doing he is promoting his own interest. "If all—were as good as the best," then—Think this over. Fill in the blank spaces and apply the sentence to any, or all, of the departments of your work and then figure out what the result would be if you could by good judgement and well directed effort, make them to yield "all as good as the best." I don't think we can start this season's work with a better motto than "all as good as the best." We shall adopt it at the Creameries and ask the co-operation of each individual patron for co-operation, to make all butter as good as the best. You can do your share in this work by supplying cream which will be, in point of quality and condition, equal to the best, viz: clear pure and sweet. The best markets to which we cater demand that all be "as good as the best."

DAIRY HERD RECORDS.

It will interest you to know that the Department will render every assistance to dairymen who desire to make their business a paying one. Provision will be made to conduct dairy herd record work in connection with the Creameries, and it is hoped that a number of patrons will avail themselves of the opportunity they will have of finding out the productiveness, or profitability of the individual cows in their herds. You will find that they are not all "as good as the best"

by any means.
If you are interested, and I think you ought to be, then help along the formation of a dairy record association to be worked in connection with your local creamery. The butter maker in charge will be delighted to give you all information as to the objects and working methods of such organizations.
C. MARKER,
Office of the Dairy Commissioner
Calgary, May 6th, 1907.

An important decision was given by the court on 6th inst. Regina recently, the question being the right of municipalities to grant exemptions from school taxes. It was held that a municipality did not have this power. This decision is of far reaching importance, as it affects almost every school district within the bounds of a municipality in the Province of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Miss Michener has retired from the position of organist of the Methodist church owing to press of work, and Mr. James Foulds, late of Westmorland, England, has been engaged in her place. Mr. J. Foulds has had many years experience as organist in England and is a thorough musician.

The Wright Sales Agency, Gaetz Avenue, transferred some attractive properties in the residential districts, also an elegant residence on Waskasoo. This Agency makes a specialty of finding buyers for desirable estates and go-de of all description.

Since learning of Alberta and Saskatchewan's agreement to have the same school readers the other provinces of the Dominion have taken the question up, and there is a probability that they will join with the rest in having the same reader in every province of the Dominion.

It is quite true FERROL is an emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and a particularly good one at that. But it combines Iron and Phosphorus with the Oil, and these are just what are needed to make the emulsion perfect and they are just what all other emulsions lack.

is unique because
It combines Iron and Phosphorus with Cod Liver Oil.

It is pleasant to take and easy to digest. It holds the record for increasing the weight (55 lbs from the use of 25 bottles).

The formula is freely exposed and its bona-fides are vouched for by eminent analysts in Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

It is endorsed by prominent physicians of all schools.

It is used in all the leading Hospitals, Sanitariums and other Public Institutions.

The London (Eng.) Lancet, after careful analysis in its own laboratory, fully endorses it.

We are prepared to substantiate all the above statements.

Local and General

Harry Raikes, of Pine Lake, was in town last week.

Miss Crawford of Aymer, Ont., is visiting her brother Mr. J. L. Crawford.

Mrs. T. B. Lafferty, of Seattle, is the guest of her sister Mrs. A. E. Helliwell.

The Waskasooos vs Moehanes play ball on 24th at Exhibition grounds at 2:30.

Mrs. J. M. Stevenson, was in Innisfail recently visiting her sister Mrs. Moyer.

The Board of Trade last night selected Messrs. Oumette, Munro and H. H. Gaetz as delegates to the Provincial meeting at Prince Albert in June.

P. Pidgeon has purchased the two lots next to P.M. Prunrocker's shop, from Edgington estate, for $8,000.

Miss A. Paterson will hereafter hold her juvenile dancing class on Saturday afternoons at 3 o'clock in the Oddfellows' Hall.

Innisfail will have a troop of the 15th Light horse with J. D. Lauder as lieutenant in charge. Recruiting is now going on.

Kenilworth Lodge A. F. and A. M. will meet in the masonic hall this Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Visiting brethren cordially welcome.

A number of the young ladies of the town have organized a walking club and the first tramp of the season took place on Friday evening last.

The mail from Everts and western points after June 1st. will arrive at 4:30 p.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday, and leave on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays at 8 a.m.

The Excursion train for Camrose will leave Red Deer May 24 at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and leave Camrose on the return trip at eight in the evening. The special rate for the round trip is $2.20.

We draw attention to the big add of H. H. Gaetz in another column. Now is the time to buy cheap lots. They will never be cheaper. They are placed at rock bottom prices. Buy at once. There is no boom in land on at the present time.

T. F. Ellis returned Wednesday from a trout fishing expedition south of Calgary. He was accompanied by Teddy Telfer, and they visited the ranch of their old friend Mr. Miller. They enjoyed a splendid time caught three trout, enjoyed the beautiful mountain scenery and came home feeling ten years younger for their outing.

Every citizen of Red Deer should be alive to the fact that the Exhibition Association is primarily an educating concern and be ready when the time comes to support it at the time of its exhibition. The Prize list is very good. Exhibits should be worth looking at this year.

In our remarks regarding James Bower's gasoline engine last week, we omitted to mention the fact that it was purchased through Latimer & Botterill the implement people of Red Deer. Mr. Bower purchased two J.C.C. sulky 18 inch plows, after giving them a thorough test, from the same firm.

The Shareholders of the Exhibition Association should feel eminently satisfied with their Directors. They evidence some ability in handling a difficult proposition.

Mr. Frank Mohener shipped a car load of hogs to Calgary last week. He paid $8.75 per cwt. although he agreed to pay only $6.50. It is not often a man will pay more than he bargains for.

The Fire Brigade teams will leave for Calgary to-morrow, on the evening train for the sports in that city Thursday and Friday. We expect the boys to bring home some of the trophies.

Walter Shuh and Miss McKenzie, of Penhold, left on Thursday last for parts unknown, and have not since been heard of. The supposition is they were married at some point up the line at once. Mr. McKenzie, we understand, like no further steps to follow them up.

Messrs. Grant, Steele, McKenzie and Fitzpatrick, of Red Deer, and Pennafather, of McLeod, were committed for trial by Mr. Justice Duffus at Olds on Thursday, on the charge of stealing boats and gear from the Great West Lumber Co. They will appear for trial at the sittings in Calgary next month. They were released on $500 bail each. Mr. W. E. Payne appeared for the Co., at the various hearings, and Mr. Jas. Muir, K.C., of Calgary, for the accused.

Mrs. James Donaldson, of Eklville, had her husband, James Donaldson, arrested last week charged with having assaulted her and attempting to choke her, and also charged him with not providing necessities for herself and family, thereby endangering their lives and health. The charge was heard by L. C. Palmer J.P. and occupied his attention for several hours. After all the evidence was heard the Justice decided that the accused had had a good deal of provocation for the assault and that he had made reasonable provision for his family. He therefore allowed the accused to go upon payment of costs which amounted to $27.00. An attempt was also made by him to effect a reconciliation between the parties, but without avail. Mr. Moore appeared for the prosecution and Mr. Crawford for the accused.

Servicemen at the Baptist church will be of a most special character next Sunday both morning and evening when the members and congregation will enthusiastically celebrate their third anniversary. There will be special sermons, special music, and it is expected special blessing. Monday evening from 8 to 8 the ladies of the church will serve supper in the basement of the church, which is being thoroughly refitted for the occasion, after which a platform meeting with speaking and music will be enjoyed in the men's auditorium. Every effort is being made to make this anniversary a record success. Among the speakers who will deliver timely addresses on Monday night may be mentioned: The local ministers, Revs. A. McDonald, Leduc; Black, Innisfail; Kennedy, Burnt Lake; and Bowering, Wetaskiwin. Male quartette both Sunday and Monday. The ladies are charging 50c for Monday's entertainment, including supper and programme.

John Wilson, the blacksmith, and family left for Innisfail last week, where they will in future reside.

Charles Wilson of Wilson Bros., Penhold, was in town Monday, selecting his stock of boots and shoes from travellers here.

Painful Accident.

A lad named Geo. Lighbown, residing six miles west of Everts, met with a most painful accident on Saturday last. He was disking and a wooden wheel was thrown from the disk and fell in front of it. The horses were stopped but not before the disk had passed over part of his body, cutting into one foot and severing one of the bones, cutting a wound below and across one leg below the knee and cutting a fearful gash across one hip and along the outside making a wound in which the hand could be placed. Fortunately no prominent artery was cut or he would have bled to death. As it was he would have died had not his younger brother, who saw the accident taken his braces, tied them around the leg and twisted them tight with a stick. The lad was brought to town and is doing nicely at the present time in a private residence, the hospital not yet being ready for patients.

Eckville Notes.

There is still some C.P.R. and other land for sale around Eckville. Anyone wanting a good investment would do well to look at some of the quarter sections still in the market. Strangers from all parts are frequently heard to say that this part of the Medicine valley is as choice a farming district as any they have ever seen. This fact does not seem to be as widely appreciated as it should amongst those who have not been in this locality.

Implement dealers, at any rate, are alive to the prospects here. There have been general agents representing different well known firms working from this point lately and they seem well satisfied with the results.

Amongst other machinery ordered are some new gasoline outfits for threshing, feed chopping etc. So many local farmers were disappointed at not getting their grain threshed last fall that they are determined not to be left out when the season again comes round.

Ralph Matchett underwent an operation on his throat a short time ago. He accompanied his mother down east and as he had been unwell for some time previously he was examined by a doctor there, who advised and carried out the operation. Latest news was to the effect that he was doing well.

Messrs. Martin Bros. have now got their lumber mill running on their timber limit out west. The lumber is being hauled and piled at the spot west of the Lobstick Creek where the new store is being erected. This should be a good thing for the settlers there.
